AVIATION MEET AT MOANALUA PROMISES TO BE BIG SUCCESS

PRELIMINARY CANVASS OF CITY SHOWS MUCH INTEREST IN MARS' FLIGHTS IN HONOLULU—WILL GO FROM HERE TO ORIENT AND THENCE TO NEW YORK.

There is every prospect that the aviation meet to be held here the latter part of this month, when Bud Mars will make flights from Moanalua, will be a great success, from the preliminary canvass made among the business men in the past three days.

In speaking of the matter this morning, Promoter B. J. stated that the only way to have the proposition handled properly was to have it backed by the Merchants' Association or some body of that kind, as is done in the United States.

In Pismo $10,000 was raised in a few days by the Merchants' Association, a regular tag-day stunt being worked, and everyone had to buy. Here the business community has been canvassed for the number of tickets that it would take, and a large number have already been disposed of, one company subscribing for one hundred.

As the promoter of the flights is not looking for charity, this method of securing the meet does not appeal to him particularly, for when a concern takes a large number of tickets it must either sell some of them or else regard the work as giving just so much toward the enterprise gratis.

Everyone met with, however, is enthusiastic over the prospect of seeing one of the most noted bird-men in the world make flights here, and the attendance at Moanalua for the three days will be large.

As there is nothing else on for Christmas Day and the one following, all Honolulu will turn out to see the daring feat that Mars will perform in the air.

From Honolulu the trip of the aviator will be continued around the world, finally landing in New York, after visiting the countries of the Orient and India, besides stopping in Europe for some time.

The games tomorrow will be the last before the championship ones, but as to where the last games of the series will be played has not been decided.

Ed Lewis has received word from Barney Oldfield that he will come to Honolulu soon and will bring his big racing machine with him prepared to do some fast driving while in the Territory.

Oldfield has been ruled off the western tracks as well as the eastern ones for his race against Jack Johnson and he is coming to Honolulu for a little vacation and to take in the wonders of the volcano.

It is reported that Jim Jeffries and Jimmy Coffey are both coming down with Oldfield and there may be something doing in fight circles as well as in fast automobiles during the time the trio are in this part of the world.

NO SUNDAY SOCCER AT ALIOLANI COLLEGE
Principal Blackman Denies That Any Game Will Be Played.

"There will be no soccer game at Aliolani tomorrow," said Principal L. Blackman of the College this morning when he dropped into the Bulletin office to contradict a report published in the morning paper.

The story published was that the newly organized soccer team of Aliolani would play a team from the alumni at the college grounds tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Principal Blackman denies absolutely that there will be any Sunday game played there and wished to have the statement that such a game was to be played denied.

HEALANIS TO DO STUNTS FEBRUARY 22
Will Have Men in Water Events for Elks' Carnival.

During the Elks' Carnival members of the Healani Boat Club intend doing a few aquatic stunts to delight the multitudes in Honolulu and to that end are preparing for water sports on the night of February 22.

The best men of the club will enter the events for this night and under the brilliant illuminations from the waterfront water polo and crank swimming stunts will be done.

Yesterday afternoon the victorious Puna let for Kaneohe to celebrate their football championship over the College of Hawaii in fitting style.

This afternoon there will be two games of soccer played, the Kama and Mailes play at Kaneohe field and the Puna and Higs at Punahele.
